HPS Loadbanks Expands Involvement in Electrical Generation Systems Association (EGSA)

Brian Cleary Appointed Secretary for Codes & Standards Surveillance Committee

San Diego, CA (October 30, 2013) – HPS Loadbanks (HPS), the leading distributor of Crestchic® Loadbanks in North America, announces the two-year appointment of Brian Cleary, General Manager of HPS Loadbanks, as the new Secretary of the Codes and Standards Surveillance Committee at EGSA (Electrical Generating Systems Association).

Brian Cleary says, “I am very excited to have this opportunity to serve in this leadership position. I look forward to making a positive contribution to the committee and helping EGSA continue the outstanding work it does for our industry.” Cleary continues, “The entire team at HPS Loadbanks is proud to be involved with EGSA at all levels including the 2013 EGSA Fall Technical & Marketing Conference.”

Carmen Nasic, HPS Sales Representative, continues, “EGSA is a valuable resource for our industry.” As an industry thought leader on the Load Bank Best Practices panel at the 2103 EGSA Fall conference in Seattle Washington, Ms. Nasic discussed the current technology trends, industry regulations and long-term maintenance and quality issues in the loadbank industry.

Mr. Cleary concludes, “The EGSA Fall Conference was an outstanding industry event and serves as a prime example of why HPS Loadbanks continues to expand our involvement in this great organization.”
